

Summer Associates

At WCL&W, Summer Associate attorneys will be assigned to work with either our zoning, transactions or litigation groups. The goal of our training is to permit summer associates to handle basic research and to participate in the formation of case strategy, starting with the drafting of legal briefs and continuing into public hearings.

Summer associates are responsible for drafting a variety of documents, including sales contracts, development agreements and covenants. Law school students should submit their resumes by August for consideration the following summer.
